Queens College SEEK Program

On February 26, 2015 on a quick week 's notice students' of the Queens College SEEK Program traveled to Albany to lobby against proposed budget cuts intended for SEEK/ College Discovery Programs. It was a chill morning, at 7:00 AM, when they gathered on Melbourne Avenue and 150 ST to take the bus. They traveled along with NYPIRG (NY Public Interest Research Group) student leaders, who where a great source of inspiration and guidance. A special thanks to Jason Chin-Fatt and Tiffany Brown, who assisted in coordinating the trip. The letters submitted by current students, alumni, family and friends were instrumental in receiving an increase of 3.764% on the SEEK/College Discovery Programs' Budgets. Congratulations SEEK Students for standing up for your rights!
